Potion
Collection

eau de parfum by SPITFIREGIRL

THE POTION COLLECTION

was born out of a love for Egyptian art and the 3,000-year-old history of fragrance that stems from that region, one of the oldest perfume mentioned in history. The ancients used it to pleasure their Gods, to insure the Pharaohs had all their senses satisfied in the afterlife. Cleopatra used scent to lure Mark Anthony and to help retain her hold on Egypt via Rome. The fragrance was not just for the Kings and Queens everyday common people cherished fragrance and used it widely in their homes and on their person.

Our creator Kristin Scott has a deep love of Egyptian art and its long history of fragrance and the creation of scent. This collection uses many traditional elements that the Egyptians would have had access to. Many of the scents in this collection are intention-based, meaning they have a specific purpose for the wearer. Whether it is to find or give love, retain fortune, seduce a lover, or transform yourself, this collection encompasses the many aspects of modern life with a direct link to our collective past. As we are all human and love a good smell, we hope that you enjoy this collection as much as we have making and expanding it over the last ten years.
